

General Discussion Questions on Search for Identity

How does the protagonist's identity evolve throughout the story?

What events or characters influence this evolution?

In what ways do societal expectations or cultural norms affect the character's sense of identity?

Does the character conform to or rebel against these expectations?

How does the character reconcile internal conflict with external reality in their search for identity?

Are there moments when the character hides or suppresses their true self? Why?

How do names, heritage, or language contribute to a character's identity in the text?

Which characters help the protagonist discover or understand who they are?

Are there any who hinder this process?

How do family relationships impact the character's self-discovery?

Does the character ever reject an identity that others try to impose on them? What are the consequences?