

General Discussion Questions on Race

What ways do the characters conform to, or resist, societal stereotypes about their race?

How does the narrative challenge or reinforce your understanding of racial identity?

How does the author use language to depict race? Are there dialects, code-switching, or specific cultural references?

Which characters' racial experiences did you find most surprising or enlightening, and why?

How does the text encourage readers to question their own assumptions about race?

Are there moments when the story exposes implicit bias in the reader or other characters?