

General Discussion Questions on Survival

What moral or ethical compromises do characters make in order to survive? Are they justified?

How do the survival situations bring out hidden traits in the characters?

How are ideas of justice, fairness, or leadership reshaped in survival conditions?

Does extreme hardship reveal a person's true self—or transform them into someone new?

Are people morally responsible for others in survival situations?